Good afternoon, Beth Sholom family,

This past weekend, we welcomed Rabbi Peggy who returned from her summer break. The Rabbi enlightened us with her very interesting Dvora Torah (Torah Talk). Shabbat morning service was followed by a delicious luncheon celebrating the Rabbi's return. Weekend events continued with Sunday morning services and the Rabbi's study session and discussion in preparation for the High Holidays.

The Amen Choir continues to be busy at work rehearsing for the High Holidays. They sound terrific! We appreciate all of their hard work and look forward to hearing them.

Please don't forget to tune into our Parsha Study group meeting tonight at 6 pm on zoom. We have almost completed Deuteronomy, the final book of our Torah.

This Friday, 10/20, we are so pleased to welcome our dynamic duo, Cantor George and Carole Mason, for another beautiful and musical service. Join us at 7 pm (Hybrid) for this special treat. This week's Parsha reading is Ki Tavo.

Important Announcement! Field trip to CBS in Elkins Park on September 25th. Seats are filling up for our trip to visit the only Synagogue designed by renowned architect Frank Lloyd Wright. We will visit the Synagogue, museum, and have lunch. All are welcome and we encourage participation by members and their friends and family. Contact Newton ASAP if you wish to join us.

On September 27, the final Friday service before the High Holidays will be led by Newton and Janet Rennie, followed by a special Oneg in honor of Ed Ayervais, provided by Ellie. Join us in Celebration and wish Ed a beautiful Birthday and a happy and healthy year ahead. Live and on Zoom.

On Saturday morning, September 28, at 9:45 a.m., join us for the last Shabbat before we celebrate our New Year. Barry and Newton will be leading the Service, followed by a Kiddish lunch. There will not be a Book Club meeting this month.

Jerry Abrams will close out the month by leading our next Adult Education Class on Zoom on Mon., 9/30 at 7:00 pm.

Deadline for Living Scroll entries has been extended to September 20. If you have not done so already, please participate in this meaningful project in honor of the New Year. Entry form is attached for your convenience.

High Holidays will be here very soon. Please see the attached schedule for this year's Holiday services.

Today is Day 348 of the Violence as we deeply mourn the savage loss of 6 Hostages. We will continue to pray for the safe return of the hostages, soldiers, victims, and all of those who are suffering, and for an end to War!

With warm regards and prayers for peace,

Shalom,
Gwen Stubbolo, President
